

THE 2nd DAY OF THE MONTH OF JANUARY
COMMEMORATION OF OUR VENERABLE AND GOD-BEARING FATHER,
SERAPHIM, WONDERWORKER OF SAROV
AT LITTLE VESPERS

At "Lord, I have cried ..., four stichera, in Tone IV:

Assembling today, O ye Christian people, let us crown the earthly angel and heavenly man with hymns of praise, and let us cry out to him with fervor: O blessed father Seraphim, most glorious boast of fasters, pray thou to the Lord in our behalf, that He have mercy upon our souls. (Twice)

Loving chastity and meekness from thy youth, O father Seraphim, with purity of mind and heart didst thou acquire the love of Christ, whereby thou didst draw nigh unto God. Do thou therefore now entreat Him to deliver from misfortune them that keep thine honored memory with faith.

O venerable father Seraphim, the multitudes of Christian people assembling today for the glorification of thy precious relics are filled with joy and gladness. For thou art shown to be healing for the afflicted and feet for the lame that approach the shrine of thy relics with faith.

Glory ..., in Tone VI:

Rejoice, and be glad in the Lord, O Monastery of Sarov, for in thee hath shone forth a new light of the land of Russia. Adorn thyself and dance, O Church of God, and rejoice with her, O ye multitudes of monks. Leap for joy, O assemblies of them that love the feasts of the Church; and having woven a wreath of spiritual flowers, cry ye out with David: Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints. For this is the beginning of the glory of the venerable Seraphim, whereof do thou make us partakers through thy supplications, O blessed one.

Now and ever ..., Theotokion, in the same tone:

None that approacheth thee leaveth thee ashamed, O most pure Virgin Theotokos; for he asketh grace and receiveth a gift unto the profit of his own request.

At the Aposticha, these stichera, in Tone II:

Departing thy native region and traveling to the city of Kiev, thou didst there, at the relics of the wonderworkers of the Caves, receive a blessing for the path of saving struggle. Thus do thou also send down a blessing upon us that keep thine all-holy and most honored memory.

Great skill didst thou receive with love in the obedience of monastic struggles, O venerable father Seraphim, and thou didst astonish the brethren with thy patience and love. Pray that our souls be saved.

Stichos: Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord; he shall greatly delight in His commandments.

Strengthened by the counsels of the abbot, thou didst dwell in the wilderness of Sarov, O father; thou didst make haste to abide there in prayerful struggle, and wast shown to be a habitation of the Holy Spirit.

Glory ...,

Strengthened by the counsels of the abbot, thou didst dwell in the wilderness of Sarov, O father; thou didst make haste to abide there in prayerful struggle, and wast shown to be a habitation of the Holy Spirit.

Now and ever ..., Theotokion, in the same tone:

Thou art our intercessor and protection, O most pure one. Deliver us from grievous misfortunes and circumstances, and save our souls by thy divine prayers.

Troparion, in Tone IV:

From thy youth didst thou love Christ, O blessed one; and, aflame with the desire to serve Him alone, thou didst struggle in the wilderness in unceasing prayer and labor; and with compunction of heart acquiring the love of Christ, thou wast shown to be the beloved favorite of the Mother of God. Wherefore, we cry unto thee: Save us by thy prayers, O our venerable father Seraphim.

Glory ..., Now & Ever ..., The Troparion of the Fore-feast, In Tone IV:

Make ready, O Zebulon! Adorn thyself, O Nephthali! O River Jordan, leaping up receive thou the Master Who cometh to be baptized! Rejoice, O Adam, with our first mother! Hide not yourselves as ye did before in paradise; for He that beheld you naked hath appeared, that He may clothe you in your primal raiment. Christ hath appeared, desiring to make all creation new!

AT GREAT VESPERS

At "Lord, I have cried ...", The stichera of the forefeast, in Tone IV,

Spec. Mel.: "As valiant among the martyrs ...":

Let us piously sound forth beforehand * the hymns of the forefeast * of the honored baptism of our God; * for, lo! as a man He washeth * to approach His Forerunner in the flesh * and to request saving baptism * for the edification of all * that with faith are enlightened in sacred manner * and partake of the Spirit.

Christ is pointed out! * God is made manifest, * as David most plainly wrote beforehand; * and He goeth to a servant, asking baptism. * O river Jordan, be thou filled with gladness! * Ye earth and sea, * ye mountains and hills, * and hearts of men, now leap for joy, * receiving the noetic light!

O Almighty Lord, * how can the river's streams receive Thee * Who art the River of the world * and a torrent of nourishment, * as it is written, * Who goest up naked, * Who clothest heaven with clouds, * Who hast lain bare all the malice of the enemy, * and arrayest mortal men in incorruption?

And five stichera to the venerable one, in Tone I,

Spec. Mel.: "O marvelous wonder ...":

O most glorious wonder! * A struggler for piety is revealed at Sarov, * and the most wondrous Seraphim doth become a fervent intercessor for us before God. * Rejoice, O Monastery of Sarov, that dost hold within thyself the relics of the venerable one! * Leap for joy, O ye multitudes of the Orthodox, * who have the most wondrous Seraphim as a defender amid misfortune and who cry unto him: * Rejoice, thou light of the Russian land! * Utterly disperse the legions of our adversaries, * and beseech the Lord to grant peace and great mercy to our souls.

O marvelous wonder! * In the Monastery of Sarov, * behold, the blessed Seraphim revealeth himself to us * as an unshakeable pillar of piety. * Wherefore, O ye assemblies of the divinely wise, * be ye exalted in the spirit to the heights, * crying to the venerable one: * O venerable father Seraphim, * beseech the Lord to grant peace and great mercy to our souls!

Wondrous are Thy mysteries, * O Christ our God, * for Thou hast given us a beacon in the venerable Seraphim, * a mighty champion for our right-believing hierarchs * against the adversary, * and intercessor for monks and all Orthodox Christians, * and the boast and foundation of his holy monastery, * who now doth entreat Thee, O Lord, * to grant peace and great mercy unto our souls.

When thou didst enter the wilderness of Sarov, O venerable one, * having utterly cast off thine own will, * thou didst show steadfast obedience to all, * for thou didst joyously endure vexation and dishonor. * Thou didst receive blows and stripes from evil men, * for whom thou didst yet pray, O venerable one. * And glorifying thy most honored memory, * we beseech thee, O venerable one: * Beg the Lord to grant peace to the world and great mercy to our souls.

Blessed is the Monastery of Sarov, * which hath thee, O venerable father Seraphim, as a treasury of virtues, * a vessel of purity and chastity, * a receptacle of grace, a fount of healings, * a physician who cureth the infirm without fee, * a true faster, a comforter of the afflicted, * and a calm haven for them that are tempest-tossed by the passions of life. * O venerable father Seraphim, pray that peace and great mercy be granted unto us * that keep thine honored memory.

Glory ..., in Tone VIII:

Come, ye assemblies of the faithful, let us glorify our most wondrous father with songs of praise today, and let us cry thus unto him: O venerable father Seraphim, thou wast truly vouchsafed a godly life, receiving a crown of unfading glory from God. Wherefore, the Monastery of Sarov doth boast of thee, and the people, beholding the precious shrine of thy relics and the miracles that take place through thine intercession, glorify the Lord Who doth glorify thee. Beseech Him, O venerable father, that He grant peace and great mercy to our souls!

Now & ever ..., Doxasticon of the forefeast, in Tone VI:

The Christ of truth cometh to the Jordan to be baptized of John, and he sayeth unto Him: "I have need to be baptized of Thee, and comest Thou to me? I who am grass dare not touch fire! But do Thou, O Master, sanctify me by Thy divine revelation!"

Entrance. Prokimenon of the Day. And three Lessons:

But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them. In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: and their departure is taken for misery, and their going from us to be utter destruction: but they are in peace. For though they be punished in the sight of men, yet is their hope full of immortality. And having been a little chastised, they shall be greatly rewarded: for God proved them, and found them worthy for himself. As gold in the furnace hath he tried them, and received them as a burnt offering. And in the time of their visitation they shall shine, and run to and fro like sparks among the stubble. They shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people, and their Lord shall reign for ever. They that put their trust in him shall understand the truth: and such as be faithful in love shall abide with him: for grace and mercy is to his saints, and he hath care for his elect.

READING FROM THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON [5:15-6:3]

But the righteous live for evermore; their reward also is with the Lord, and the care of them is with the most High. Therefore shall they receive a glorious kingdom, and a beautiful crown from the Lord's hand: for with his right hand shall he cover them, and with his arm shall he protect them. He shall take to him his jealousy for complete armor, and make the creature his weapon for the revenge of his enemies. He shall put on righteousness as a breastplate, and true judgment instead of an helmet. He shall take holiness for an invincible shield. His severe wrath shall he sharpen for a sword, and the world shall fight with him against the unwise. Then shall the right aiming thunderbolts go abroad; and from the clouds, as from a well-drawn bow, shall they fly to the mark. And hailstones full of wrath shall be cast as out of a stone bow, and the water of the sea shall rage against them, and the floods shall cruelly drown them. Yea, a mighty wind shall stand up against them, and like a storm shall blow them away: thus iniquity shall lay waste the whole earth, and ill-dealing shall overthrow the thrones of the mighty. Hear therefore, O ye kings, and understand; learn, ye that be judges of the ends of the earth. Give ear, ye that rule the people, and glory in the multitude of nations, for power is given you of the Lord, and sovereignty from the Highest, who shall try your works, and search out your counsels.

READING FROM THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON [4:7-15]

But though the righteous be prevented with death, yet shall he be in rest. For honorable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that is measured by number of years. But wisdom is the gray hair unto men, and an unspotted life is old age. He pleased God, and was loved of him: so that living among sinners he was translated. Yea, speedily was he taken away, lest that wickedness should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul. For the bewitching of naughtiness doth obscure things that are honest; and the wandering of concupiscence doth undermine the simple mind. He, being made perfect in a short time, fulfilled a long time: for his soul pleased the Lord: therefore hastened he to take him away from among the wicked. This the people saw, and understood it not, neither laid they up this in their minds, That his grace and mercy is with his saints, and that he hath respect unto his chosen.

At the Litia, the sticheron of the temple,
And these stichera to the venerable one, in Tone I:

With what crowns of praise shall we crown the great ascetic, the venerable Seraphim? For he was shown to be a good guide in steadfast faith and virtue, instructing them that came unto him with divinely inspired teachings and by his angelic life. Wherefore, we cry unto him: a venerable one, beseech Christ to establish the Orthodox faith and to save our souls!

Come, O ye multitudes of monks, let us piously praise the venerable one today, the true disciple of the Savior, who hath trampled down the deception of the world, taken the yoke of Christ upon his shoulders, and put to shame the hosts of the demons. Let us cry thus unto him: O father Seraphim, forget not us that praise and honor thy holy memory!

O venerable Seraphim, thy radiant and godly memory hath struck kings, princes and hierarchs with wonder, for while yet in the flesh thou, like one of the bodiless hosts, didst put to shame the invisible enemies. The whole province of Tambov and the holy Monastery of Sarov rejoice, possessed of thy holy relics, through which health is granted unto all that draw nigh to thy precious reliquary in faith. Wherefore, enlightened by thee we cry unto thee, O venerable one: Pray thou that our souls be saved!

Glory ..., in Tone V:

O land of Russia, rejoice this day; and be thou glad, O holy Monastery of Sarov! Ye multitudes of the faithful who have hastened hither today, let us glorify our venerable father, pastor and teacher, the divinely wise guide of those astray, the ready healer of all the afflicted, the great adornment of the Russian land, whom praising thus we say: O venerable Seraphim, save us by thy prayers!

Now and ever ..., Theotokion, in Tone V:

Rejoice, O holy Virgin Theotokos, thou pure vessel of the whole world, ever-burning lamp, indestructible temple, thou who contained the Uncontainable One! Rejoice, thou of whom was born the Lamb of God, Who cometh forth to take away the sins of the whole world!

Spec. Mel.: "Rejoice, O life-bearing Cross ...":

Rejoice, converser with angels, O venerable Seraphim! Having lived piously on earth, thou didst teach the fear of the Lord unto the many that came to thee. Illumined by the grace of the all-holy Spirit, thou didst behold as present things which were to come, and hast filled many that were suffering in spirit with compunction and joy. Wherefore, we beseech thee: Pray to the Lord in behalf of them that honor thee!

Rejoice, most wondrous instructor of the erring, who wast vouchsafed to behold in the temple Christ the Lord with angels and archangels. And now, O venerable one, who in the heavens dost take unceasing delight in the vision of Him, do thou pray for us that keep thy memory in faith.

Stichos: Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord; in His commandments shall he greatly delight.

Rejoice, O venerable Seraphim, for thou hast commanded all to keep Christ's true faith; and, yearning for the life on high, thou didst disdain wealth. And thou dost now behold the ineffable beauty of heaven and takest delight in the sweet hymnody of the angels. Wherefore, entreat thou the Lord, that He grant us peace and great mercy.

Glory ..., in Tone VI:

O venerable father Seraphim, who can recount thy labors and sufferings? And what tongue can describe thy harsh life in the wilderness, thy vigils and fasting, yea, and thy life in seclusion, thy silence and unceasing prayer? Thou hast truly been shown to be the adornment of them that fast and a steadfast intercessor before God. Wherefore, we cry unto thee: Rejoice, a model of monastic life! Rejoice, great consolation amid misfortunes and sorrows, and fervent advocate for all! O venerable one, pray thou that our souls be saved!

Now & ever ..., Doxasticon of the forefeast, in Tone I:

Come, all ye faithful, and, forsaking the land of Judea, let us cross over the wilderness of Jordan; and there shall we behold today Him Who hath appeared in the flesh for our sake, requesting baptism in the streams of the Jordan of the Baptist, who refused, crying aloud in fear: "I dare not touch Fire with my hand of clay! Jordan and the sea fled and turned back, O Savior; and how can I place my hand upon the crown of the head of Thee before Whom the seraphim tremble? Jordan fled when Elisha received the mantle of Elijah; and how is it that it hath not sunk into chaos and the lower depths, beholding Thee naked in its streams? How is it that it doth not scald me who am set all afire by Thee?" "Wherefore dost thou hesitate to baptize my Lord, O Baptist?" the Jordan cried out to John. "Why hinderest thou the cleansing of many? Sanctify all creation, and remain Thou also to sanctify me, and the nature of water, for it is for this that Thou hast made Thyself manifest!"

Troparion, in Tone IV:

From thy youth didst thou love Christ, O blessed one; and, aflame with the desire to serve Him alone, thou didst struggle in the wilderness in unceasing prayer and labor; and with compunction of heart acquiring the love of Christ, thou wast shone to be the beloved favorite of the Mother of God. Wherefore, we cry unto thee: Save us by thy prayers, O our venerable father!

After the second chanting of the Psalter, this Sedalion, in Tone I:

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. MATTHEW [11:27-30]

The Lord spake unto His disciples saying: All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

After Psalm 50, this sticheron, in Tone VI:

Celebrating in spirit on the appointed festival of the venerable father and piously rejoicing, let us fervently cry aloud today, O ye faithful: Rejoice, O blessed Seraphim! Rejoice, heavenly man and earthly angel! Rejoice, O thou that hast guided many to the path of salvation! Rejoice, boast of pious Orthodox Christians and confirmation of the Russian land! Pray thou in behalf of our souls!

The canon of the forefeast, with six troparia, including its Irmos, followed by both canons of the venerable Seraphim, with a total of eight troparia.

ODE I

Canon of the forefeast of the Theophany, the acrostic whereof is the alphabet, the composition of Joseph the Hymnographer, in Tone II:

Irmos: Let us chant unto the Lord Who by His divine command dried up the impassable and turbulent sea, and directed the people of Israel to cross it on foot, for gloriously hath He been glorified!

The divine Forerunner, who knoweth the advent of the Lord, emergeth from the desert, crying out with splendor: "Our deliverance hath drawn nigh and appeared! Repent ye, and cleanse yourselves with water!"

O Word, Who art co-unoriginate with the Father, with the immersion of repentance which is Thy baptism cleanse me wholly who am immersed in a flood of sins; and ever grant deliverance unto the faithful, for the sake of Thine infinite lovingkindness.

The land of Zebulon, as it is written, beholding the unwaning Light, was enlightened; for, lo! He is come to the streams of the Jordan! And it hymneth God Who is over all, crying out: Let us chant unto the Lord, for gloriously hath He been glorified!

The divinely eloquent Forerunner, seeing all the people who had come, exclaimed to them: "Who hath told you to flee from the coming wrath? Show forth fruits of repentance, O ye that are saved by grace!"

Canon I to the Venerable Seraphim, in Tone VI:

Irmos: When Israel traversed the deep on foot as on dry land, beholding the persecutor Pharaoh drowned, they cried out: Let us chant unto God a song of victory!

O Lord, open Thou mine unworthy lips and grant me an utterance of knowledge, that I may worthily hymn the memory of the blessed Seraphim, who with the angels doth now pray to Thee to deliver us from every grievous circumstance.

Thou wast a great intercessor before the Theotokos, O venerable one, and wast vouchsafed to behold her with the apostles. And now, cease not to visit thy children with thy prayers.

From thy youth, O venerable one, thou didst surrender thyself in mind unto the Lord, and having subdued the passions of thy body through rigorous abstinence, thou wast adorned with every virtue, O most wise one.

Theotokion: O most blessed Mistress, who gavest birth unto the all-good God in the flesh, cleanse thou my heart which is tormented by passions, that I may magnify thee with faith and love.

Canon II to the Venerable Seraphim, in Tone VIII:

Irmos: Having traversed the water as though it were dry land and escaped the evil of Egypt, the Israelite cried aloud: Let us chant unto our Deliverer and God!

Thou didst tread the straight and narrow path to the heavenly kingdom in accordance with the commandment of Christ the Master, disdaining the broad and spacious path. And now do thou pray for us that keep thy most radiant memory.

Having ascended the mount of dispassion and taken up thy cross from thy youth, thou didst unfalteringly follow after Christ. And having acquired spiritual wisdom, thou didst attain the heavenly Jerusalem, O venerable one. Pray thou to the Lover of mankind in our behalf.

Standing now before the throne of God, O venerable one, intercede thou for the suffering Russian land; and by thy prayers, O venerable one, entreat salvation for the Christ-loving people of Russia.

Theotokion: Harken, O Lady, unto them that flee to thee with faith and love, and that hymn thee with fear.

Katavasia: The Lord, mighty in battles, uncovered the bed of the deep and drew His people across dry land, overwhelming the adversary in the sea, for He hath been glorified!

ODE III

Canon of the Forefeast

Irmos: Establish us within Thee, O Lord Who hast slain sin by the Tree, and plant Thou the fear of Thee in the hearts of us that hymn Thee.

"The Christ hath appeared!" the Forerunner crieth out, "And He cometh up to the streams of the Jordan! Let us make haste to greet Him, enlightened by pure thoughts!"

O my God, Thou deliverance of all, having clothed Thyself in my abundant poverty, Thou approachest to be baptized, seeking me who have strayed from the right path.

Let earth and heaven now join chorus, for the Benefactor of all is baptized, submerging the multitude of our countless transgressions in the waters.

Canon I to St. Seraphim

Irmos: There is none as holy as Thee, O Lord my God, Who hast exalted the horn of Thy faithful, O Good One, and hast established us upon the rock of Thy confession.

Standing before God with the angels in thy prayer, O venerable one, pray thou for the whole world, that the assaults of the enemy be overcome and that Orthodox Christians be granted victory over their adversaries.

From thy youth thou didst cleave with faith and love unto the Master of the hosts on high, O venerable Seraphim; and, shining forth like the sun in the wilderness of Sarov, thou wast a comfort to them that approached thee in sorrow. Pray thou that we be saved!

To them that pray unto thee, thou hast been shown to be an unshakeable pillar and a refuge for them that have recourse unto the Monastery of Sarov, and abundant grace for them that receive healings.

Theotokion: Our first mother Eve heard: In sorrow thou shalt bring forth children. And thou, O pure Virgin, hearing: The Lord is with thee! Rejoice! didst put to flight the grief of our first mother with this cry of joy!

Canon II to St. Seraphim

Irmos: O Lord, Fashioner of the vaults of heaven and Creator of the Church: establish me in Thy love, O Summit of desire, Confirmation of the faithful, Who alone lovest mankind.

Beseech Christ God, O blessed one, to deliver us from famine and plagues, from sudden death, from secret transgressions and wicked thoughts, that with a pure heart we may cry out to Christ: O Lord, save us by the supplications of the venerable one!

Following after Christ the Master in meekness and humility, thou wast all things to all men; tirelessly instructing both rich and poor in piety, thou didst foresee the future as though it were the present. Beseech Christ God, O venerable one, to grant us remission of our transgressions!

Deliver thy monastery from every assault of the enemy, O venerable one, and fill it with love and grace, that it heed not the cares of this life, but attain unto the goodness and beauty which save the soul.

Theotokion: Our trust and hope art thou, O most holy Mistress. Save the suffering Russian land and thy people that pray and call upon thy holy name!

Katavasia: The Lord Who giveth strength unto our kings and exalteth the horn of His anointed ones, is born of the Virgin and cometh to baptism. O ye faithful, let us cry aloud unto Him: There is none as holy as our God!

The Kontakion Of The Forefeast, In Tone IV,

Spec. Mel.: "Thou Hast Appeared Today ...":

In the streams of the Jordan the Lord crieth out to John today: Fear not to baptize Me, for I have come to save Adam the first-created!

Ikos: "I do not require thee to transgress the bounds of what is meet, O Baptist; I am not saying unto thee: Tell Me what thou tellest the iniquitous, and what thou teachest sinners. Only baptize Me in silence, awaiting those things which come through baptism; for it is for the sake of this that thou hast received a dignity which even the angels do not possess; for I have made thee greater than all the prophets. Thus, not one of them beheld Me plainly, but only in images, shadows and reflections; but thou beheldest Me standing before thee. For I am come to save Adam the first-created!"

Having utterly overcome the passions of the sea of life by abstinence, and attained unto the haven of dispassion, thou wast revealed as a vessel of abstinence, O venerable Seraphim. Beseech Christ God to grant us great mercy!

Glory ..., Now and ever ..., of the forefeast, in Tone VIII:

Spec. Mel.: "Of the shepherds ...":

O invisible God, unapproachable Word, Thou wast begotten of the Father in a manner transcending nature and past recounting; and again, in the latter days, without altering what Thou wast, Thou wast born of the Virgin and comest now to be baptized in the flesh in the streams of the Jordan, O Thou Who as God hast been well pleased to save the race of man.

ODE IV

Canon of the Forefeast

Irmos: Thou didst come forth from the Virgin, not as an intercessor, nor an angel, but the Lord Himself, incarnate; and Thou hast saved me, the whole man. Wherefore, I cry unto Thee: Glory to Thy power, O Lord!

The great Forerunner doth marvel at Thine arrival, O Jesus our Benefactor, and in awe he crieth out to Thee: "O Master Who art fire, burn me not who am grass!"

"Beholding Me standing in these waters of Mine own will, O John, do thou now draw nigh and baptize Me, that with water I may fashion grace for the human race!"

"I have come to know Thee in the flesh to be as the sun which covereth itself with clouds. How therefore is it that I now behold Thee naked, clothed in the waters?" John cried out, marveling.

"Human nature is enlightened and receiveth deliverance from the darkness of sin, and is clothed from on high with the divine vesture of incorruption when I am stripped naked."

Canon I to St. Seraphim

Irmos: Christ is my power, my God and Lord, the holy Church doth sing in godly manner, crying out with a pure mind, keeping festival in the Lord.

Today the Monastery of Sarov doth radiantly celebrate thy memory, O venerable one, and doth beg thee: Ask of the Lord peace for the whole world and great mercy for our souls!

In thy great struggles didst thou flourish like a palm tree, O venerable one, sweetening the hearts of them that have recourse unto thee with fruitful words and a blameless life: Wherefore, do thou now pray that we obtain mercy from Christ our Savior!

By thy prayers entreat God for us, O venerable Seraphim, and drive away the sinful darkness of our grief. Adorn with dispassion, faith and love all that honor thy most glorious memory!

Theotokion: Rejoice, O Virgin Mistress, thou beauty of the Churches, might and boast of the suffering Russian land! Pray to Christ God without ceasing, that He preserve us from misfortunes by thy prayers.

Canon II to St. Seraphim

Irmos: I have heard, O Lord, the mystery of Thy dispensation; I have considered Thy works, and have glorified Thy divinity.

It is not the Monastery of Sarov alone, but the whole land of Russia which hath thee, O blessed one, as a fervent intercessor and speedy helper, almighty and invincible defender and mediator for our souls.

Be thou an intercessor and mediator for us before the all-holy Trinity, and move thou to pray with thee the choirs of the saints whose life thou didst emulate, O venerable one. With them pray for peace and the good estate of the whole world, that in this age we may live a peaceful and quiet life, and in the future inherit eternal life.

Being great among fasters, O venerable one, thou didst lead an arduous monastic life in the wilderness, and didst end it in compunctionate prayer. Pray that we be saved!

Theotokion: Thou art our refuge and confirmation, O all-pure Theotokos. Beseech thy Son and our God, that He grant us salvation and remission of sins.

Katavasia: He Whom Thou didst call "a voice crying in the wilderness," heard Thy voice as Thou didst thunder over many waters, bearing witness unto Thy Son. And being wholly filled with the Spirit which had descended, he cried aloud: "Thou art the Christ, the Wisdom and Power of God!"

ODE V

Canon of the Forefeast

Irmos: O Lord, Bestower of light and Creator of the ages: Guide us in the light of Thy commandments, for we know none other God than Thee.

Crying out, "Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand," the sacred Forerunner appeared out of the desert, renewing them that had grown desolate in evil deeds.

His law and the sacred company of the prophets said of old that the Christ would come, renewing through divine baptism us who wax old through our many transgressions.

"Strange and awesome things do I behold today," said John, "for now the Wellspring of immortality is come to ask baptism of the least droplet!"

Canon I to St. Seraphim

Irmos: With Thy divine light, O Good One, do Thou illumine the souls of them that with love wake at dawn to Thee, I pray, that they may know Thee, O Word of God, to be the true God Who calleth them forth from the gloom of sin.

Unto all that come to thee hast thou been a true teacher and a great intercessor before the Theotokos. And now, O venerable one, cease not to pray for thy children, for thou hast great boldness.

Let the Christian people now enter into the temple of the Monastery of Sarov, bowing down before thy precious relics, O venerable Seraphim, and, glorifying Christ, let them ask healing and salvation of thee.

The invisible enemy desired to affright thee when thou wast praying to God at night, O venerable one. But, put to shame by thy prayer, the most wicked one vanished.

Theotokion: O most pure Mary, beseech God Who was born of thee, that He grant remission of transgressions unto thy servants.

Canon II to St. Seraphim

Irmos: Illumine us with Thy commandments, O Lord, and with Thy lofty arm grant us Thy peace, O Lover of mankind!

Thou didst glorify the Monastery of Sarov with fasting and unceasing prayer, O venerable one, anointing the infirm with oil from the icon of the Theotokos and granting them healing in abundance. Pray thou now that our souls be saved!

O ye hierarchs and priests, rejoice with the monks of Sarov, and ye people, hymn together the blessed father, the calm haven of them that are tempest-tossed by sorrows, the ready healer of infirmities of body and soul.

Offer up thy prayers, O venerable one, as an acceptable and unblemished sacrifice unto the all-holy Trinity, and forget not us that now keep thy memory. Beg mercy for them that hate, wrong and are angered against us, and deliver all from every sorrow.

Theotokion: Guide my mind which is tempest-tossed by many passions, O Mistress. Save us that have recourse unto thee, O Theotokos, for apart from thee we know none other help, O pure one.

Katavasia: Jesus, the Author of life, cometh to lift the condemnation of Adam the first-created, and though as God He requireth no cleansing, He cleanseth the fallen one in the Jordan. And having slain enmity therein, He granteth peace which passeth all understanding.

ODE VI

Canon of the Forefeast

Irmos: The uttermost abyss of offenses hath surrounded me, O Lord, but lead up my life from corruption, as Thou didst the Prophet Jonah, O Lord.

As rain into a fleece of wool do Thou drop down the remission of our offenses, O Lover of mankind, Who drowned the transgressions of those born of earth in the Jordan's streams, in Thy great mercy.

Being an abyss of righteousness, O Christ, Thou dost now come forth to the River Jordan to drown the serpent and to wash away the crime of Adam.

"How can the river's streams hold Thee Who art truly a stream of incorruption, O Christ?" the Forerunner cried out, glorifying Thy great compassion.

Canon I to St. Seraphim

Irmos: Beholding the sea of life surging with the storm of temptations, fleeing to Thy calm haven I cry unto Thee: Lead up my life from corruption, O most Merciful One!

Thy holy soul was an abode of God, wherein the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit did dwell. Wherefore, we pray thee, O venerable one, dispel the slanders of the enemy from them that honor thee, and grant peace to the suffering land of Russia.

O venerable Seraphim, we honor thy great struggles and labors in the wilderness and the sweetness of thy teaching, whereby thou hast enlightened many that have come to thee and taught them to hymn the consubstantial Trinity.

Following after Christ the Master in purity of life, thou didst complete the good race, O venerable one. Having ascended to the eternal mansions, thou dost behold there what the angels see. Wherefore, honoring thy memory, we glorify Christ.

Theotokion: I now flee unto thee, O all-pure one. Save and preserve me by thy supplications. For whatsoever thou desirest, that thou canst do, in that thou art the Mother of the Almighty.

Canon II to St. Seraphim

Irmos: I pour forth my supplication unto the Lord, and to Him do I declare my grief, for my soul is full of evil and my life hath drawn nigh unto hell, and like Jonah I pray: Lead me up from corruption, O God!

We are all full of sin, but thy prayers, O venerable Seraphim, ascend unto the Lord like fragrant incense. We now pray thee: Calm thou the raging storm of evil impiety in the land of Russia, and entreat of the Lord the salvation of our souls.

Truly blessed wast thou, O venerable Seraphim, having acquired riches through poverty, and through tears, joy-which thou didst abundantly bestow upon them that came to thee. And now thou dost emit rays of miracles and dost heal all that have recourse unto thee in faith.

Having dug with thine own hands a well in the wilderness, O venerable one, thou didst give drink unto the thirsty that came unto thee. And now thou healest the diseases of the sick with the water of this well. Truly, the Master hath shown thee forth unto all as a miraculous intercessor and wonderworker, O venerable one.

Theotokion: We confess thee indeed to be the Mother of God, the true Theotokos, for by thy birthgiving have we been delivered from the curse of corruption, by the lovingkindness of God, the Lover of mankind, and have been called to life incorruptible.

Katavasia: The voice of the Word, the candlestick of the Light, the morning star of the Sun, the Forerunner, crieth out to all the people in the wilderness: "Repent, and be ye cleansed beforehand! For, lo! Christ is at hand, delivering the world from corruption."

Having forsaken the beauty of the world and the corruption therein, thou didst take up thine abode in the Monastery of Sarov. And having lived there as an angel, thou didst become a path for many to salvation. Wherefore, Christ hath glorified thee, O father Seraphim, and enriched thee with the gift of healings and miracles. Therefore, we cry out to thee: Rejoice, O our venerable father Seraphim!

Ikos: Having forsaken family and friends, and regarding riches as but dust, thou didst take up thine abode in the wilderness of Sarov; and having struggled against the passions like one of the bodiless hosts, thou wast vouchsafed to stand in the angelic choir. Wherefore, having received spiritual knowledge, grant even us, O venerable one, to chant this unto thee with understanding, saying: Rejoice, O blessed Seraphim, heavenly man and earthly angel! Rejoice, emulator of Christ in thy love! Rejoice, abode of the Holy Spirit! Rejoice, great joy of the despondent! Rejoice, source of healing! Rejoice, sweet consolation for sorrowful souls! Rejoice, calm haven for monks and all-wise instructor! Rejoice, boast of the land of Russia! Rejoice, O our venerable father Seraphim!

ODE VII

Canon of the Forefeast

Irmos: When the golden image was worshipped on the plain of Dura, Thy three children despised the godless command; and, cast into the midst of the fire, bedewed they sang: Blessed art Thou, O God of our fathers!

Clothing me in sacred vesture, who have been stripped naked through the counsel of the false one, O Christ, Thou hast come in the richness of Thy goodness to pass naked through the waters. I hymn Thy lovingkindness and worship Thy wondrous providence.

When John beheld Thee naked and commanding that he baptize Thee, he said: "What is this great economy toward us, O Christ? What is this poverty? What is this ineffable descent which passeth understanding?"

Thou didst light Thy precious flesh like a lamp in the midst of the Jordan, O Christ, and didst search for Thine image which had been buried by sin and the passions; and finding it, Thou didst adorn it with Thy baptism, O Good One. Wherefore, we hymn Thee.

Canon I to St. Seraphim

Irmos: The Angel made the furnace put forth dew for the venerable children, and the command of God, consuming the Chaldeans, compelled the tyrant to cry out: Blessed art Thou, O God of our fathers!

Wondrously was thy life shown to be full of the grace of the divine Spirit, O venerable one. Truly thou didst receive the blessed end of the righteous, rejoicing in Christ. And we cry out to Him that hath glorified thee: O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

Gathering together at thy holy monastery today, a multitude of people doth bow down before thy precious relics, O venerable Seraphim, and we all draw forth healings therefrom, crying out unceasingly: O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

This report hath gone out into all the world, that a most glorious wonderworker hath appeared in Sarov, pouring forth a multitude of healings upon all that with faith approach and cry out: O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

Theotokion: O Virgin Theotokos, who ineffably didst give birth unto the Word, thy Creator: With the venerable Seraphim beseech Him to have mercy upon our souls!

Canon II to St. Seraphim

Irmos: The children that went down from Judea in Babylon once trod down the flame of the furnace by faith in the Trinity, saying: O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

Have mercy on us, O Lord, and through the prayers of him that pleased Thee, the venerable Seraphim, preserve us from every soul-corrupting evil, that we may all cry out with compunction: O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

Who is not astounded, who doth not glorify the unfathomable abyss of Thy lovingkindness, O Lord? For Thou hast revealed to the whole world him that pleased Thee, the venerable Seraphim, the fervent intercessor before Thee for us that cry out: O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

Acept this hymn of thanks which we offer unto thee, O venerable Seraphim, and grant healing unto all of us that keep thy holy memory, that bow down before the shrine of thy relics and cry out: O God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

Theotokion: Thou art our refuge and confirmation, O all-holy Theotokos. Entreat thy Son and our God to grant us salvation and remission of sins.

Katavasia: The dew-laden whistling wind and the descent of the Angel of God preserved unharmed the pious youths who communed together in the fiery furnace. Wherefore, bedewed in the flame, they raised a hymn in thanksgiving: O all-hymned Lord and God of our fathers, blessed art Thou!

ODE VIII

Canon of the Forefeast

Irmos: God, Who descended into the fiery furnace for the Hebrew children and transformed the flame into dew, hymn ye as Lord, O ye works, and exalt Him supremely for all ages!

John stood forth, the voice of him crying out clearly in the wilderness, turning the hearts of them that have fervently repented to glorify the Savior and Master Who appeared in the Jordan.

"A rushing torrent art Thou, Who fashioned the sea and the wellsprings, and how comest Thou up to the waters? Why seekest Thou cleansing, O Thou Who art the washing and purification of them that hymn Thee, O Christ, for ever?"

Seeking to dry up the streams of the enemy's malice, to drain the sea of the passions and to pour forth cleansing and remission upon the faithful, a Master, Thou comest to be baptized in the streams of the Jordan.

O Creator of the hours and years, having in Thy lovingkindness come under time, Thou hast shone forth timelessly from the all-unoriginate Father, and hast come to wash away in the streams of the Jordan the transgressions committed throughout all ages.

Canon I to St. Seraphim

Irmos: From the flame didst Thou pour forth dew upon the venerable ones, and didst consume the sacrifice of the righteous one with water; for Thou, O Christ, dost do all things whatsoever Thou willest. Thee do we exalt supremely for all ages!

Having subdued the passions of the flesh and died to the world, thou didst receive the words of eternal life in thy heart, O blessed one, teaching all that had recourse unto thee to cry out: O ye works, praise ye the Lord, and exalt Him supremely for ever!

At the glorification of thy precious relics, O venerable one, the Monastery of Sarov was filled with joy. And all the people cried out unto God Who is wondrous in His saints: O ye works, praise ye the Lord, and exalt Him supremely for ever!

Being filled with the grace of the divine Spirit, O venerable Seraphim, through thy prayers beg remission of sins for the faithful people that keep thy holy memory and cry out: Ye children, bless; ye priests, praise; ye people, exalt the Lord supremely for ever!

Theotokion: O Theotokos, who gavest birth unto the Savior and Master of all, thou hast been shown forth to us as the mediatrix of salvation; wherefore, we pray thee: Vouchsafe salvation unto all that faithfully hymn thee unto all the ages.

Canon II to St. Seraphim

Irmos: The heavenly King Whom the angelic choirs do hymn, praise ye, and exalt Him supremely for all ages!

The most evil enemy, hating thy virtuous life, desired to cause thee to falter, O venerable one. But having put him to shame by the grace of God and the prayers of the Theotokos, thou didst glorify God, singing: O ye works, praise ye the Lord and exalt Him supremely for ever!

As flashing lightning illumineth the firmament, so have the reports of thy wonders gone forth throughout all the world, O venerable one. And marveling at thy glory, we cry out: O ye children, bless; ye priests, praise; ye people, exalt the Lord supremely for ever!

Heal thou our minds which are disquieted by vain and passionate imaginings, O venerable one; quell thou the waves of evil disbelief in our land, and strengthen our hearts, which are crippled by worldly cares, that we may glorify Christ the Creator for ever.

Theotokion: Rejoice, O fiery throne of the Lord! Rejoice, O ray of immaterial splendor! Rejoice, thou cloud of the radiant Sun of righteousness, Christ our Savior, Whom we exalt supremely for all ages!

Katavasia: The Babylonian furnace which poured forth dew showed forth a most glorious mystery: how the Jordan was to receive the immaterial Fire in its streams and embrace the Creator baptized in the flesh. Him do the peoples bless and exalt supremely for all ages!

ODE IX

Canon of the Forefeast

Irmos: O ye faithful, let us with hymns magnify in oneness of mind the Word of God, Who from God came in His ineffable wisdom to renew Adam, who had grievously fallen into corruption, and Who was ineffably incarnate for our sake of the holy Virgin.

Seeing Thee, our Benefactor, coming to him and asking baptism of him with humility, John marveled, astonished, in no wise daring to touch with his hand Thee Who touch all the mountains and makest them to smoke.

Like the cherished swallow heralding a noetic spring, the Baptist hath called forth to them caught up in the deep mid-winter of boundless transgressions and ever enduring the blizzard of adverse spirits and evil passions.

With hymns do we magnify Thee, O Lord, as God and Savior, the Effulgence of the glory of the Father, the never-setting Sun Who hast shone forth upon them that sit in the darkness of evil, and art come to enlighten all.

Seeing thy barrenness, O my soul, the axe of death, lying at thy root, threateneth to hew thee down as an unfruitful tree. But cry out to God with fervent repentance: I have sinned against Thee! Save me!

The voice of one crying out hath been heard in the wilderness of our hearts, saying: "Be ye glad! Christ hath come forth, granting remission unto all! Be ye all sanctified, O springs and rivers, valleys and mountains, and all places under the sun!"

Canon I to St. Seraphim

Irmos: It is not possible for men to see God, upon Whom the ranks of angels dare not gaze; but through thee, O all-pure one, the incarnate Word appeared unto men; and magnifying Him with the armies of heaven, we call thee blessed.

Accept, and disdain not, our small tribute, offered unto thee from unworthy lips, O venerable one. Sanctify all that glorify thee, and deliver us from misfortunes, dangers and eternal torments, that we may hymn thee forever.

Manfully enduring the heat of the day and the cold of night in the solitude of the wilderness, thou wast an abode of the Wisdom of God, and didst hasten toward the unwaning radiance. Pray thou that we be saved!

This day is the monastery glorified, wherein thou didst consent to take upon thyself the yoke of Christ; for there didst thou spend thy days in the wilderness; and, enlightening by thy teachings the many that came unto thee, thou didst teach them to be children of the Church of Christ.

Theotokion: Thou art our strength, thou art our boast and joy, our protectress, help, refuge and invincible intercessor. O most pure Theotokos, save thou thy servants!

Canon II to St. Seraphim

Irmos: Saved by thee, O pure Virgin, we truly confess thee to be the Theotokos, magnifying thee with the bodiless choirs.

Emulating the great fathers who of old shone forth in fasting and ascetic struggle, O venerable one, thou didst spend all the days of thy life in prayer, tears and labor, until thou didst attain unto the heavenly mansions. Wherefore, we bless thee as is meet.

With mighty power did Christ God gird thee about and strengthen thee to overcome the wiles of the demons, O venerable one. Wherefore, we now pray thee: Entreat God, the Lover of mankind, to deliver us all from the assaults and temptations of the enemies, and to save our souls.

In our pain and sorrow we flee to thee, O venerable one, and cry out from the depths of our souls: Be thou a calm haven and ready healer for the sick, and deliver us from every ill and want, that we may unceasingly magnify thee.

Theotokion: O most pure Virgin, thou didst give birth unto One of the Holy Trinity, the Son and Word, Whom do thou entreat with the saints and the righteous in behalf of thy servants that with faith ask remission of sins.

Katavasia: Every tongue is at a loss how to praise thee as is meet, and even a heavenly intelligence is bewildered when called upon to hymn thee, O Theotokos. Yet, as thou art good, accept our faith; for thou knowest our godly love, in that thou art the protectress of Christians, and we magnify thee.

Exapostilarion: Spec. Mel.: "Hearken, ye women ...":

Come, all ye faithful, let us praise with sacred hymns the venerable Seraphim, wondrous in miracles, the new beacon of the land of Russia, the converser with angels and fervent intercessor before God for them that honor his holy memory!

Glory ..., Now and ever ..., the Exapostilarion of the forefeast, in the same melody:

The voice of one crying out hath been raised: "Leap up, O mountains! Join chorus, O race of men! for the all-unoriginate Word, Who as a man hath taken flesh upon Himself, is come, being baptized by hands which He fashioned, drowning the sin of the world in the Jordan.

At the Praises, six stichera:

Three stichera of the forefeast, in Tone VI, Spec. Mel.: "O angelic hosts ...":

O hosts of angels, go forth from Bethlehem to the streams of the Jordan! O John, forsaking the desert, go before us all! Rejoice, O river, and make ready! Let all the earth rejoice! Christ cometh to wash away the sin of Adam, for He is compassionate!

With pure mouths and cleansed souls come ye mystically, leaving Bethlehem; and going with Christ to the Jordan, let us hymn Him with gladness, O all ye lands, saying with faith: Blessed art Thou, O God, Who hast come! Glory be to Thee!

Great and awesome is the mystery, for God hath made Himself like man, though he kneweth not sin in any wise; and, though innocent, He asketh to be baptized of John in the River Jordan today. O our blessed God, Who hast made Thyself manifest, glory be to Thee!

Three stichera of the saint, in Tone VIII:

The most honored feast of the Monastery of Sarov hath arrived, the memorial of the venerable Seraphim, to whom we now cry out: Rejoice, light and confirmation of fasters, star like unto that of the Magi, showing monks the way to the heavenly mansions, most glorious boast of priests, ever-flowing fountain of love and chastity, most radiant beacon of spiritual discernment! Rejoice, O great model of the virtues!

O blessed father Seraphim, thou didst truly follow after Christ, drawing all to thyself by brotherly love and guilelessness, and teaching man the path of virtue through meekness and humility. Wherefore, we lovingly bless thy memory, O venerable Seraphim.

Thou didst dwell in the wilderness, O venerable one, and, being filled with divine wisdom, thou didst ascend to the summit of virtue. Wherefore, we cry out to thee: Rejoice, adornment of the Church, fair consolation of priests, splendor and boast of monks, O blessed Seraphim! Pray Christ God to grant peace to the world and great mercy to our souls!

Glory ..., in Tone VI:

Come, ye assemblies of monks and colloquy of fasters; come, ye multitudes of Christian people, let us honor the true faster with hymns, crying out: Rejoice, thou that didst traverse the narrow path in the steps of Christ the Master, thou ready helper of them that come to thee in tribulations and sorrows, O most wondrous mediator of salvation! Rejoice, thou that wast adorned with the gift of prophecy, foretelling the future as though it were the present! Pray thou, O venerable Seraphim, for them that honor thy holy memory with faith and love.

Now and ever ..., of the forefeast, the composition of Anatolius, in Tone VIII:

"O Forerunner John, who knewest Me, the Lamb, while yet in the womb of thy mother, minister unto Me at the river, offer unto Me service with the angels. Stretching forth thy hand, touch the all-pure crown of My head; and when thou seest the mountains smoke and Jordan turn back, cry aloud with them: O Lord, Who wast incarnate of the Virgin for our salvation, glory be to Thee!"

Great Doxology. Litanies. Dismissal.

AT LITURGY

On the Beatitudes, 8 troparia. 4 from Ode III of the canon of the forefeast, and 4 from Ode VI of the first canon of the saint;

"The Christ hath appeared!" the Forerunner crieth out, "And He cometh up to the streams of the Jordan! Let us make haste to greet Him, enlightened by pure thoughts!" (Twice)

O my God, Thou deliverance of all, having clothed Thyself in my abundant poverty, Thou approachest to be baptized, seeking me who have strayed from the right path.

Let earth and heaven now join chorus, for the Benefactor of all is baptized, submerging the multitude of our countless transgressions in the waters.

Thy holy soul was an abode of God, wherein the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit did dwell. Wherefore, we pray thee, O venerable one, dispel the slanders of the enemy from them that honor thee, and grant peace to the suffering land of Russia.

O venerable Seraphim, we honor thy great struggles and labors in the wilderness and the sweetness of thy teaching, whereby thou hast enlightened many that have come to thee and taught them to hymn the consubstantial Trinity.

Following after Christ the Master in purity of life, thou didst complete the good race, O venerable one. Having ascended to the eternal mansions, thou dost behold there what the angels see. Wherefore, honoring thy memory, we glorify Christ.

Theotokion: I now flee unto thee, O all-pure one. Save and preserve me by thy supplications. For whatsoever thou desirest, that thou canst do, in that thou art the Mother of the Almighty.

The Troparion Of The Fore-feast Of Theophany, In Tone IV:

Make ready, O Zebulon! Adorn thyself, O Nephthali! O River Jordan, leaping up receive thou the Master Who cometh to be baptized! Rejoice, O Adam, with our first mother! Hide not yourselves as ye did before in paradise; for He that beheld you naked hath appeared, that He may clothe you in your primal raiment. Christ hath appeared, desiring to make all creation new!

From thy youth didst thou love Christ, O blessed one; and, aflame with the desire to serve Him alone, thou didst struggle in the wilderness in unceasing prayer and labor; and with compunction of heart acquiring the love of Christ, thou wast shown to be the beloved favorite of the Mother of God. Wherefore, we cry unto thee: Save us by thy prayers, O our venerable father Seraphim.

Having forsaken the beauty of the world and the corruption therein, thou didst take up thine abode in the Monastery of Sarov. And having lived there as an angel, thou didst become a path for many to salvation. Wherefore, Christ hath glorified thee, O father Seraphim, and enriched thee with the gift of healings and miracles. Therefore, we cry out to thee: Rejoice, O our venerable father Seraphim!

The Kontakion Of The Forefeast, In Tone IV,

In the streams of the Jordan the Lord crieth out to John today: Fear not to baptize Me, for I have come to save Adam the first-created!

Prokimenon, in Tone VI: Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints.

Stichos: What reward shall I give unto the Lord for all the benefits that He hath done unto me?

THE EPISTLE TO THE GALATIANS [5:22-6:2]

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law. And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts. If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit. Let us not be desirous of vainglory, provoking one another, envying one another. Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such a one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.

Alleluia, in Tone VIII: Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord; in His commandments shall he greatly delight.

Stichos: His seed shall be mighty upon the earth.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. MATTHEW [II: 27-30]

All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

Communion Verse: In everlasting remembrance shall the righteous be; he shall not be afraid of evil tidings.
